He has a point about the "Russia, Russia, Russia" bias of the MSM. In his next tweet he says that it could have been China. It sounds like the government computer scientists, which would include NSA and military no doubt, can't really pin it on any party at this point. It's like the DNC e-mail leak.

In secret sworn testimony, the guy at Crowdstrike stated that they had only circumstantial evidence that it was the Russians who pulled those e-mails off the DNC servers. of course, Bill Binney and his group went farther than that. None of the MSM reported the Crowdstrike testimony or Bill Binney's theory. It's all garbage.

All of that makes sense in the context of what we have seen. Whenever the DS starts hitting the Russia Russia Russia drum it has always been to either cover for something that is happening internally or its a cover for Chinese shenanigans. Thing is that script is old and played out, anyone that is really paying attention knows that without even going into the computer forensics. Either they wanted Biden to walk in with a pretext to start a war with Russia or this is their hail Mary to try and evade the hammer.

I agree. The MSM and whoever they represent really do want a war with Russia. I doubt that Putin would be interested in that and the retaliation the US would rain down on him wouldn't be good.

A nation wouldn't do this unless it was prepared for very serious retribution if caught. I can see China willing to go toe to toe with us and our allies right now. Xi wants to dominate the world as he believes it is China's right. Putin strikes me as being uninterested in that sort of thing at this point. It's all very strange.
